BEST REISSUES

Design gems from the archives that have stood the test of time

Last year was a time for reminiscing, for harking after the days when form and function lived in perfect harmony, when gin martinis were served on Knoll 'Splay-Leg' tables. This yearning for bygone days of design saw Onecollection reissue Finn Juhl's 1951 sofa and Cassina revive Charlotte Perriand's 'Plurima' bookcase, which she designed almost 30 years ago, but never saw produced. In a tribute to Ettore Sottsass, who died in 2007, Issey Miyake decided to revive the perfume bottle Sottsass had created for the label a decade earlier. The handmade bottle will see the light of day in a limited run of 2,000. All of which proves that the best judge of design is time. ★
